To Whom it May Concern,

I met Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh in the winter of 1981 through His book entitled " The Heart Sutra ". This meeting with Bhagwan was a great shock to me. Because in those days I had already decided to become a psychiatrist and was considering many things about therapy, relationships, love, myself etc.

I obtained my license to practise as a doctor and acquired a position at the Musashi National Mental Hospital. I practised Bhagwan's meditations daily and joined many therapy groups while working as a psychiatrist. Bhagwan taught me how to be a therapist as opposed to practising therapy methods. I have discovered through His teachings that, only when a therapist-patient relationship disappears and love is born can healing happen. Also to help people to stop the struggle of changing their personality and to accept themselves and for them to not be serious about their problems because their is no problem at all.

Still now Bhagwan is teaching me from Rajneesh-puram and helping me to work with people.
