To Whom it may Concern.

For many years now I have been observing the world situation closely in its ecological and ideological (spiritual) development.

Such observation is part of my profession, an architect specialised as Urban Planner. Over and over it has been verified, that an identical counterpart on a worldwide scale can be found to all discoveries we make in the relatively small circles of urban life (it was an American, who originally called today's world a "global Village").

For sensitive ears, many voices have been audible for a number of years, who have been pointing out various indicators of the present situation of humanity and the world. Whether it is individuals, such as outstanding cultural voices, or political and religious groups, whether it is the Club of Rome or the Pope of Rome:

all are pointing out the high level of disorder, destruction and "no-future", we all are in. ②

Amongst these voices one day (seven years ago) I discovered Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. I discovered him being the only one, who offers some answer, who can meet the present needs of our spiritual and ecological development (all other attempts have failed in the past), who offers some kind of counter-measure. Rajneesh speaks out of a different kind of recognition. It is the recognition of the individual, of the self, something all religions of our world have been trying more or less successful.

Rajneesh's answer is born out of our very own world and as we can see in our all reactions, a very powerful and potent answer.

Considering the present state of our world, I would suggest that anybody, who's aim and concern is the future regeneration of all our life, has at least to try to listen ^③ to what that man has to say for a woman I personally consider him under those circumstances an international responsibility.

What nation would anybody choose, who's attempt and work is the regeneration of the world and mankind? What nation other than the one, that one day was born out of this very spirit of renewal and regeneration? There is only one such nation, the United States of America, that was built out of the hope of all our ancestors, who set out to occupy the New Continent originally, and was expressed such intention for renewal in her constitution.
The ideologies of the old world are much to tight.

I sincerely hope, that the people of that nation recognise their responsibility now and remember the spirit, that gave birth to their nation one day. I hope that for myself and all coming generations as well.

Yours sincerely
