The English Seminar
The University of Hanover
Hanover, West Germany

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been working as a university lecturer at the above university for fifteen years after having obtained a B.A. degree in English and Philosophy at the University of Reading, England, (1963) and a M.A. in Literature at the same university (1965).

Bhagwan's books have been invaluable to me for a number of years as regards enriching and clarifying my ideas, and my experiences, resulting from participation in the meditations and growth groups offered by the movement, have given me a new attitude to my teaching work by training my sensitivity and awareness. I know many other people, occupied in similar fields as my own, who have found Bhagwan's books a great contribution to world literature, who greatly admire his work as a teacher and, like myself, have learned a great amount from him.

Yours sincerely,
