To whom it may concern:

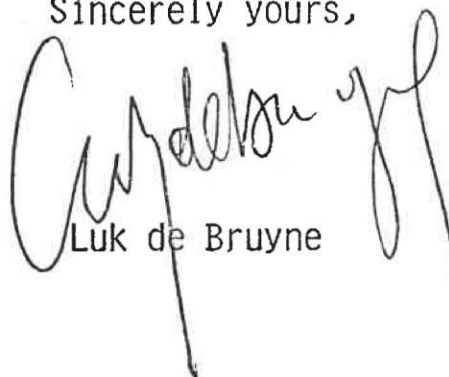

I have a university degree in literature and have practised theatre and sculpture the last ten years in Belgium, Holland, France, England and Poland.

I first came across Bhagwan's books and tapes in the spring of 1978 and I have been greatly impressed by the depth of his vision.

He has investigated the nature of creativity thoroughly and he has been able to describe the subtle processes that are behind the act of creativity. He has influenced my whole approach to the work of art, whether it was writing, working with actors or making a sculpture. Instead of an outlet for neurotic minds, art is a celebration of the essence of life.

Bhagwan's vision of life is in many ways an answer to the needs of modern mankind.

Sincerely yours,

Luk de Bruyne
