Dear Sir,

I am a 22 year old young lady who knew Bhagwan two and a half years ago. After my young brother died, I was having a very bad time. When I met Bhagwan's disciples, they told me about Him, about His wisdom and His truth.

I participated to a therapy group and went on doing some of His meditation techniques that really helped me through. With Bhagwan's teachings, I was slowly learning to live happy... I took sannyas this summer and the former I went to the states to see my Master. No words could tell you which incredible joy it has been to experience the energy of this wonderful and exceptional man! No words to tell how it feels to be blessed just no words... The only thing I can tell is that life is so intense now, that three days seem three months to me! Hence I still have centuries to live. Through His wisdom, my extraordinary master has made me sensitive to eternity.
