RAJNEESH Pura

Gentlemen and Ladies

Last winter I visited the enterprise at Rajneesh Pura and spent several days exploring the project. I returned to New York City with a set of observations

The people I met were hard working, industrious, friendly and happy.

Picking over the many dirt roads (today several of these roads are now paved) I visited an area where winter crops were growing on land that was barren.

for decades. I was shown the livestock, chickens and bees that produced the milk, eggs and honey for the residents.

Everywhere people were working at

a) Building a dam to supply all the water necessary for life for years.
This water will nourish the livestock and provide a lake for recreation.
(A fleet of buses supplied all the transportation)

b) Constructing shelter for residents and visitors and work shops

What a model!
for all of us!
A utopia, creative
peaceable community.

Sincerely Yours
