To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter in support of Shree Bhagwan Rajneesh. I am not a disciple of Rajneesh, however I do feel that he is an extraordinarily intelligent and enlightened individual who has made many contributions to society.

Bhagwan has written hundreds of books, and he has given countless lectures, of a religious and philosophical nature. The majority of his followers are educated, professional people who also contribute to a higher quality of life both in the United States and world-wide.

I urge the Immigration and Naturalization Service to reconsider Rajneesh's application to remain in this country. He has been a unique asset thus far and will continue to be for as long as he is in residence here.

Sincerely,
