

To whom it may concern —

as a frequent visitor to Rajneeshpuram over the past year, I have been asked by many people to tell them a little about the place. What I find myself answering to my non-Sannyasin friends and neighbors is that to be with Him in this silence is the most exceptional of what is called Religious experience.

This silence is His very presence. Being with Bhagwan, either in Satsang, in a dancing celebration with hundreds of the Sannyasins there or silently quieting Him as He drives by, is felt. This presence has nothing to do with words, it has everything to do with His love and extraordinary wisdom which radiates out to touch everyone and reflects in every action of that beautiful place called Rajneeshpuram.

Bhagwan's teachings are not conveyed by words, even extraordinary wording cannot say it. His teaching is a direct transmission of what He has realized within Himself and this is only possible through silence.

Sincerely,
ma Prem Jalada
