TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

For an outsider it might seem strange, but I surrendered to a Master without having seen Him.

After a long search for something significant in life, I one day discovered by accident one of the many books of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh in a supermarket. I bought it and read it immediately. I couldn't stop to read His words. What I was reading seemed to be my own long forgotten inner voice.

After a while again by accident I got to know the Rajneesh Meditation Center Akshaya in Lugano not far from my hometown. The impression I got from these people living a very creative way was very strong and I started to do the meditations and some inner growth groups.

Soon it was clear for me that I had to take sannyas. It happened at the beginning of this year. Since then I had the opportunity to see my Master in Rajneeshpuram/Oregon during the March Enlightenment Celebration. His beauty, His purity, His silence were so overwhelming that I can only thank existence to have found and recognized Him in time.
